WHO: Dr. Brent W. Davis, author of THE FLORAL HAND OF GOD: Secret Healing Codes of Flowers Revealed, and Founder of FlorAlive.

Dr. Davis has helped thousands of people overcome grief, reduce stress, strengthen relationships, and improve their life in many ways, by taking the FlorAlive® UNCUT Flower™ essences he has developed. He is a licensed chiropractor, a master herbalist, and homeopath.

WHAT: At the turn of the millennium Dr. Davis invented FlorAlive®, the first and only patented, scientifically validated flower essences worldwide. An entire section of his book is devoted to the quantum science behind consciousness transformation via FlorAlive®.

The following test results, produced by sophisticated scientific equipment show how FlorAlive's Freedom Flowers™ Blend completely reduced (real time) the spikes indicating initial stress in the patient being measured.

Human Biocompatibility Testing With FlorAlive® Freedom Flowers™ Blend – Combination #4

Biocompatibility evaluation of the human body's electrical response to FlorAlive samples. Subject is a healthy 40 year old female . FlorAlive Sample Freedom Flowers™ Blend. The images display three subject states:

- 1) No sample (this is used as a reference measurement);
- 2) FlorAlive sample held in the left hand (the sample is in a closed container); and
- 3) Three drops of FlorAlive sample placed on the tongue.

Field Dynamics - High Frequency

From attracting more love and abundance to healing deep emotional blocks, the FlorAlive quantum frequencies can do so much – quickly and easily. Many consumer testimonials can be seen on the channel <https://www.youtube.com/floralive>

WORLDWIDE EXPEDITIONS

Several of Dr. Davis' international adventures to discover rare flowers are described in his FLORAL HAND OF GOD book. In several areas of the Peruvian High-Andes he is the only white person allowed by the local shamans to work with flowers long-held secret in some of Peru's most remote and sacred locations.

Praise for THE FLORAL HAND OF GOD...

“The Floral Hand of God represents the most important advance in flower remedies since their inception in modern times — perhaps the most scientifically validated homeopathic type approach ever disclosed. More importantly, here are unique, safe ways to replace stress with health and happiness.”

Dr. Norm Shealy, MD.,

Neurosurgeon, Author, Wellness Physician and pioneer in pain medicine

“All obstacles in life essentially stem from the loss of our native, deep-feeling state and the resulting inability to creatively know as real what is channeled to us directly from the mind of God. That is what confers upon us the greatest wisdom, as well as a vast power of positive manifestation.”

RADIO INTERVIEW BY LISA GARR OF THE AWARE SHOW:

To get a quick introduction to the FlorAlive essences as nature’s antidotes to emotional problems, please listen to this interview of Dr. Davis by Lisa Garr.

In this interview, Dr. Davis describes how rare flowers act as antennas that focus and concentrate positive energies. Furthermore, he explains why it is very important to avoid cutting the flowers used to make healing essences (the standard practice in most flower essence companies), but rather extract them while they are alive at their point of origin.

ABOUT DR. BRENT A. DAVIS

Since the turn of the millennium, he has helped thousands of people overcome grief, reduce stress, strengthen relationships, and improve their life in many ways, by taking the FlorAlive® UNCUT Flower™ essences he has developed.

From the remote mountains and jungles of Peru to the plains of W. Australia to the San Juan mountains of Colorado, Dr. Davis continues to be inspired to locate rare flowers worldwide that can act as divine gifts to bring greater ease and joy to life, and assist in the evolution of humanity's consciousness.

Throughout his life, Dr. Davis has had a compelling interest in the world of medicinal plants. He has focused especially on bringing to light both forgotten and new applications of master herbs as they relate to use in general clinical practice.

In addition to being a licensed chiropractor in California and Tennessee, he has advanced post-graduate training in classical homeopathy and applied kinesiology, as well as solid core training in numerous other natural diagnostic and therapeutic techniques. When he is not treating patients or traveling on "floral adventures," he lives on his organic herb farm in the center of the FlorAlive Forest, 75 miles outside of Nashville.

Dr. Davis has collected and prepared herbs in the wild from around the world; clinically validated their usefulness in holistic practice; brought lost herbs to the attention of the academic research community; and co-authored two articles in prominent peer-reviewed scientific journals. He is the author of Healing Herb Rapid Reference and The Floral Hand of God.

Dr. Davis has developed a streamlined new approach to flower essence administration that he now teaches in workshops. This helps practitioners rapidly achieve transformational responses in patients and clients by identifying the most appropriate uncut flower essences for each individual. Practitioners are taught how to test clinically and demonstrate when undesired memories and beliefs have successfully been removed by the FlorAlive® essences.

5 REASONS WHY FLORALIVE IS DIFFERENT

Here's how FlorAlive essences are different from those created by other flower-essence organizations:

- Optimal coherent state: They are prepared from UNCUT flowers and hence contain all the plant's healing frequencies in an optimally coherent state. Other flower essences are prepared from cut flowers. As remarkable as it seems, the color, geometry, vitality, and growth location of each distinct flower combine to form "frequencies." Under the right circumstances, these frequencies can "overwrite" and remove limiting thoughts, feelings, emotions and beliefs imbedded in our subconscious/unconscious mind. The sabotaging beliefs are often related to past occurrence of emotional or physical abuse or trauma." The right circumstances" manifest much more readily when the total information of the flower is preserved and transmitted in a coherent state by the unique means of the patented UNCUT flower™ process developed by FlorAlive® inventor and holistic practitioner, Dr. Brent W. Davis. He believes that our Creator placed flowers on Earth for more than just beauty. Flowers have the great healing possibility of displacing negative subconscious memories and beliefs most people harbor, and can fill voids in us where we have emotional chasms.
- Highly energized regions: The powerful flowers we use come from highly energized regions around the world, often located in vortices where huge amounts of transformational "information" enters and is absorbed by the flowers.
- Clinical setting: The FlorAlive® essences are created out of a conceptual framework and in a modern clinical setting where the potential of a flower to transform consciousness can be tested in real time. This is done by utilizing the applied kinesiology procedure of self-referential statement evaluation as well as other techniques which are part of the new field of "energy psychology." These developments did not exist in Dr. Bach's time, and have just recently been adapted by Dr. Davis to use in the development of FlorAlive® flower essences.
- Patented process: Dr. Davis's method is patented worldwide, and therefore, only FlorAlive products can be created using uncut flowers.
- Proprietary selector: Our proprietary essence selector guides your choice of flowers so that you can transform limitations in the subconscious mind which are normally unidentifiable.
